Mark:

I understand you may be writing on the status of the SSCI RDI report.

ON THE RECORD STATEMENT FROM ME:

“Earlier this year, the CIA provided the Committee with an extensive written response to the study on the Rendition, Detention, and Interrogation (RDI) program. Our response agreed with a number of the study’s findings, but also detailed significant errors in the study. Since that time, CIA and Committee staff have had extensive dialogue on this issue and the Agency is prepared to work with the Committee to determine the best way forward on potential declassification. The CIA Director has publicly stated that enhanced interrogation techniques are not an appropriate method to obtain intelligence and that their use impairs our ability to play a leadership role in the world.”
